Read the text and answer the questions.

The Fourth of July is a special holiday in the United States. It is also known as Independence Day. On this day, Americans remember the birth of their country. On July 4, 1776, the American colonies declared they were free from British rule. This important event was written in a paper called the Declaration of Independence.

Today, people across the United States celebrate this holiday in many ways. Families have barbecues, go on picnics, and enjoy outdoor games. Cities and towns hold parades with music, flags, and marching bands. At night, many people watch fireworks light up the sky in red, white, and blue—the colors of the American flag.

The flag of the United States has 50 stars and 13 stripes. The stars stand for the 50 states, and the stripes represent the 13 original colonies. Independence Day is a time for people to enjoy with their family and friends and to remember the history of the country.
